An Athenian Dialogue

Facilitator: Jane Long, Ed. D.

Dr. Jane Long currently serves as the Director of Professional Development for the International Institute of Municipal Clerks (IIMC), however her history with IIMC dates back to 2003 when she began developing and teaching online courses for clerks nationwide. She served in that capacity until 2014 when IIMC began using Captus Press for the delivery of its online courses. Dr. Long has also presented at several annual IIMC conferences, state association conferences and Institute programs.

Prior to joining IIMC, Dr. Long spent 17 years in higher education as both a faculty member and administrator. She has taught online and on campus for several colleges and universities across the country, having developed courses in human resource management, leadership, strategic planning, project management, conflict management, career development, and numerous software applications.

Dr. Long completed her Doctor of Education in Organizational Leadership at the University of Laverne in Southern California. She also holds a Master of Science in Professional Leadership from Carlow University in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and a Bachelor of Business Administration in Human Resource Management from the University of Toledo in Toledo, Ohio.

Dr. Long is inspired by life-long learners and believes her purpose in educating others is to truly make a difference in their lives and careers.

The Girls of Atomic City: The Untold Story of the Women Who Helped Win World War II by Denise Kiernan

Class will be held from 9:00 AM—4:00 PM in the Minnesota Room

At the height of World War II, Oak Ridge, Tennessee, was home to 75,000 residents, consuming more electricity than New York City. But to most of the world, the town did not exist. Thousands of civilians--many of them young women from small towns across the South--were recruited to this secret city, enticed by solid wages and the promise of war-ending work. Kept very much in the dark, few would ever guess the true nature of the tasks they performed each day in the hulking factories in the middle of the Appalachian Mountains. That is, until the end of the war--when Oak Ridge's secret was revealed.

Attendees are required to purchase this book on their own and read it before class. (Est. cost is $12.90 or less on Amazon)

PLEASE NOTE: This Dialogue has been pre-approved for 3 CMC and 3 MMC education points for IIMC members. A practicum will need to be completed by those attendees seeking IIMC credit.

Cost: IIMC Members: $50—includes AM and PM Breaks & Lunch
Non-members: $75
