COVID-19 STATEMENT

As of January 10, 2022, the mask mandate at the 2022 Annual Conference site—Statehouse Convention Center—and all city owned buildings has been extended through April 2022.

There are no capacity limits or mandatory 6 feet social distancing in meeting space at this time, in any venue. However, the Statehouse Convention Center has the capacity for attendees to spread out if needed.

IIMC continues to monitor the situation in Little Rock via the Little Rock Convention & Visitors Bureau and with the guidance of onsite conference planners. IIMC will adhere to all COVID protocols per official state and local government guidance. The city and will implement all necessary measures regarding health and safety.

IIMC is committed to the health and safety of all conference attendees. Registration and attendance at IIMC Annual Conference sessions, meetings, events, and other activities constitutes good faith that if the attendee, or any members of their party believes they may spread the COVID-19 or any other virus, they will not participate/discontinue participation.

IIMC is not liable for exposure or harm due to COVID-19 or any other virus.
